

Host A Residential Solar Screening Event

Three Easy Steps

Earn money for your community or faith organization!

1. Schedule your event

Contact EcoMatters at (201) 639-4ECO (4326) or by email at info@ecomatters.net to select a date. Once you've secured a date, select a location for a screening conducted by EcoMatters and our partner, Advanced Performance Solar. A school cafeteria, faith community fellowship hall or a community room works well. You'll want to have your event in a space that can hold at least 50 people - these events are popular!

2. Invite people to attend

Create an electronic invite, arrange a Facebook event, send out emails, include a listing in your organization's newsletter — whatever works best for you! You'll want to invite a large group - at least 150 people - to be sure to get a significant number at your screening. Invite NJ homeowners from your community and beyond. Your organization will get a grant ranging from $2500 to $5000 for every 10 homes that complete an installation. It's truly a win-win-win. You do the outreach, we do the rest!

3. Host the Solar Screening

We bring the experts from Advanced Performance Solar and conduct the event. We can start with a quick overview of the program to explain the no-cost installation and potential savings, then we get to work. We'll bring computers to do a visual screening of the residential properties, take a look at property owner's electric bills to ensure they'll benefit from the program and take it from there. If the homeowners qualify, solar will be installed on their roofs at no cost to them, but with significant savings on their electric bills and great benefit to our environment!
